ELECTRONIC DRAFT CAPTURE

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A gateway server, point of sale device and 5 provided for protocol processing financial transactions. public network interface configured to couple to public а network and communicate financial authorization requests. The 10 financial authorization requests can include, for example, transaction specific data, a merchant store or location invariant and a supplemental header. gateway processor processes the financial transaction authorization requests and couples to a financial network interface configured to couple to at least 15 one financial network. The gateway provides a response to the point of sale device based upon data financial received from the network and the authorization request.